

NEPPA Night at Fenway

As the most anticipated social event on the NEPPA calendar year after year the 2017 edition didn't disappoint. This year's NEPPA Night at Fenway featured a May 23rd Tuesday night game versus the Texas Rangers. And while the Sox came thru with a victory on a comfortable night for baseball the pre-game venue really made for a special start to the evening.

Serving up baseball grub and suds for all NEPPA members this year was The Baseball Tavern. We were made to feel right at home in this century old building with its four floors. Distributors and suppliers could comfortably swap stories of past ball game experiences while enjoying the privacy of an entire floor. And with its unique roof-top deck this facility could be our ticket for many years.

If you missed out this year there's the ole baseball saying of "Wait 'til next year." Watch for dates in future editions of The Beacon and get in on the action.
