

NEPPA Members have FUN at Fenway!

The most anticipated social event on the NEPPA calendar was taken to a whole new level in 2018. Rather than sitting in bleacher seats, we moved to the Coca-Cola Pavilion for a terrific view of the game. Each $75 ticket included a $25 voucher for food & beverage, a chance to win Monster Seats for a future game, and all networking was done in a private area right inside the ballpark.

This year's NEPPA Night at Fenway featured a June 06 Wednesday night game versus the Detroit Tigers. Mother Nature blessed us with amazing weather and the Red Sox continued their domination of the American League with a 7-1 thrashing of the Tigers. Bogaerts & Vasquez powered the Sox with three hits each and Andrew Benintendi didn't disappoint on bobblehead night. Benny Biceps added two hits and another long homerun in the 5th inning.

Special thanks to Hub Pen for sponsoring the Monster Seat Raffle, and Stran Promotional Solutions for graphic support. Congratulations to Michelle DeMayo who was the lucky winner of Green Monster tickets.

If you missed out this year there's the ole baseball saying of "Wait 'til next year." Watch for dates in future editions of The Beacon and get in on the action. The participation level exceeded expectations and we're hoping to offer even more tickets in 2019.

Thanks again to everyone who donated & participated. It was a great time had by all!
