

American Solutions for Business Hosts Top-Earners Summit in Washington, D.C.

American Solutions for Business recently held its annual top-earners sales summit August 23-26 in Washington, D.C. Over 75 of American's top sales people and guests were invited to attend the 3-day event. Upon arrival, they attended individual suite-style meetings with 28 participating vendors to learn and connect with each product line and offerings. Each night, American hosted a social event at a new location around the city, which provided a fun, laidback atmosphere where sales associates, vendors and home office team could network and continue conversations from earlier in the day.

"American's constant goal is to position our sales associates for success," explains Justin Zavadil, ASB President. "Strong relationships and education are the driving forces keeping us on a pattern of growth. We design the Summit event to help facilitate the constant connection between our sales associates and vendors."
